NOTES IN SEASON.

THE HOME PUBLISHING COMPANY, New York, will publish on the 20th inst. Archibald Claverling Gunter's new novel, "The Spy Company: a tale of the Mexican War." This was first announced last month under the title of "The Trail to Paradise." It will be illustrated by Archie Gunn.

FREDERICK A. STOKES COMPANY will publish during the last week in February a new story by Agnes and Egerton Castle, entitled "The Star Dreamer." It is a story of English life at the period when George III. lay dying, and when Bath was in its heyday. Its vein is that of the author's "The Light of Scarthey" and "Young April," rather than of "The Secret Orchard."

McCLURE, PHILLIPS & Co. will publish next month a novel of life in a small English village, in Staffordshire, entitled "Anna of the Five Towns," by Arnold Bennett; also, "The Chameleon," by James Weber Linn, who uses as his theme that trait in human nature which leads some men and women to seek always the lime light, to endeavor always to be the protagonist, even at the expense of truth.

THE FEDERAL BOOK COMPANY, New York, announce a new book by Cutcliffe Hyne, entitled "Captain Kettle, K.C.B., being Further Adventures of Captain Kettle." They have just ready a second edition of "The New Christians," by Percy White. Miss Mary C. Francis's story of Andrew Jackson, entitled "A Son of Destiny," is receiving favorable newspaper notice, and promises to have a large sale.

FUNK & WAGNALLS COMPANY have just published a useful work of reference, entitled "Scientific Side-Lights," compiled by James C. Fernald. The volume contains thousands of illustrations of scientific topics from standard works of the masters of science throughout the world which will be of inestimable value to the speaker or writer who desires swift outlooks across the vast field of science, and who wishes from time to time to use its riches as the current coin of illustration, without devoting long hours to exhaustive scientific study. Funk & Wagnalls Company have also just ready, in an artistic cover of Hebrew ornamentation, a drama in verse which retells the old story of Saul and David and Jonathan, with the character of Jonathan lifted from the subordinate position he holds in the Scripture narrative to the central place of tragedy. The author is Thomas Ewing, Jr., the third of a name borne by two Ohio statesmen of national reputation.

J. B. LIPPINCOTT COMPANY have just ready a history of the Christian church, especially for use by young people, by Professor James A. B. Scherer, entitled "Four Princes, or, the Growth of a Kingdom." They will publish within a few weeks the first volume of an important work in the field of modern history, entitled "A History of the British Empire in the Nineteenth Century," by the Hon. Maran R. P. Dorman, M.P., author of a study of political thought in the nineteenth century, entitled "The Mind of the Nation." The first volume deals with the period from the outbreak of the war with France to the death of Pitt, (1793-1806,) and is based upon original documents. The whole work will probably be complete in five, possibly six, volumes. They will publish at the same time a story of New York club and society life of to-day, entitled "Spinners of Life," by Vance Thompson, widely known for his editorial work. They will publish early in February George Moore's new book, "The Untilled Field." This is the first work that Mr. Moore has done since the publication of "Sister Teresa," which the Lippincotts published a year and a half ago, and it is said to show the influence of his special study of Celtic life, habits and language.

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.

 The prices of net books published under the rules of the American Publishers' Association are preceded in this list by a double asterisk , and the word net follows the price. The prices of fiction (not net) published under the rules are preceded by a dagger †. The prices of net books not covered by the rules, whether published by members of the American Publishers' Association or not, are preceded by a single asterisk, and the word net follows the price.

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. c. after the date indicates that the book is copyrighted; if the copyright date differs from the imprint date, the year of copyright is added. Books of foreign origin of which the edition (annotated, illustrated, etc.) is entered as copyright, are marked c. ed.; translations, c. tr.; n. p., in place of price, indicates that the publisher makes no price, either net or retail, and quotes prices to the trade only upon application.

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

JANUARY 10, 1903.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications.

All matter, whether for the reading-matter columns or advertising pages, should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

Books for the "Weekly Record," as well as all information intended for that department, should reach this office by Tuesday morning of each week.

Publishers are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, as it is of the utmost importance that the entries of books be made as promptly and as perfectly as possible. In many cases booksellers depend on the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY solely for their information. The Record of New Publications of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY is the material of the "American Catalogue" and so forms the basis of trade bibliography in the United States.

"I hold every man a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help and an ornament thereunto."—LORD BACON.

THE MACY DECISION.

THE opinion of Justice Leventritt in what is commonly known as the Macy case, being technically Straus v. American Publishers' Association, American Booksellers' Association, et al., handed down on January 6, denies the motion for preliminary injunction, and may end the case, or may relegate it for trial on its merits, according to the disposition of the plaintiffs in the matter. Theoretically, the application for an injunction in an equity suit is simply a preliminary skirmish, pending the trial of the main issue before the court; but practically equity cases are often decided in connection with these preliminary proceedings. The opinion of Justice Leventritt is remarkable in that it indicates that his own decision would be in favor of granting the injunction, but that he feels compelled to respect the decision of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court in the controlling case of Park v. The National Druggists' Association, with which he considers the present case to be closely parallel. The opinion of the Supreme Court of Georgia represents one side of an important question in business and in law, on which the New York opinion represents the other side. Together, they suggest that the law on this very important issue is not yet fully settled by a final authority; but it should be said that the courts of New York State, in their finality, represent a weight of judicial opinion only second to that of the United States Supreme Court. For the present, therefore, the druggists' decision is, as Justice Leventritt points out, the controlling law here, and also it presents an important precedent for the courts of other States, which would be disposed to follow it rather than the decision of the Georgia court.

There are two important questions involved in the present case, one of which is common to all such cases, and one specific within the trades whose products are protected under the copyright, patent, and trade-mark laws. The general assertion that a man may do what he will with his own, and has an inherent right to sell his property to whom and as he pleases, which is the basis of laws and decisions against "boycotts," is modified in the case of copyright books and patented articles by the essential right of the original owner to sell his property to whom and as he pleases, and, under the protection of the copyright and like laws, to control prices as well as to make other sale regulations. This is an important distinction, which the courts are reasonably sure to uphold, and it is noteworthy that in the very able brief submitted by counsel for the American Publishers' Association the point is much insisted upon that the rules of the Association refer to copyright books, and that non-copyright books are not covered by its regulations.

When precedent and legal decision have clearly settled a given principle, the important point of a legal controversy is always to show that the case in court differs from or is "on all fours" with cases previously settled. Often the decision in such cases rests upon purely incidental questions of method; for instance, the publisher may rightly take steps to control the price of his copyright books and may impose conditions on their sale which will be binding on him who purchases to sell again—the jobber and retail dealer—but it is more than doubtful if the courts would uphold anything beyond this, that is, anything approaching intimidation; and it is here that the circulars of the American Booksellers' Association have sometimes come so dangerously close to the boundary line as to lend to the present case a danger which might have been avoided. The opinion of Mr. Justice

Leventritt should be a caution that, in carrying out the reform movement, every semblance of intimidation should be avoided, and the argument should be based essentially, as it is quite possible to do effectively, on the loss that must come to dealers from the rightful refusal of publishers to supply copyright books to or for those dealers who will not accept the limitations rightfully put upon their sale.

It was evident from the plaintiffs' own brief in the present case that the Macy firm was not treated differently from others in the book trade, and it is further true that the firm can at any moment purchase copyright books on compliance with the reasonable regulations laid down for their sale. There is, therefore, no boycott question really involved in this case. We trust the American Publishers' Association will never be misled to go beyond the limits of law and equity in enforcing its proper regulations, and the history of the present reform movement so far seems to indicate that there should be no question of its success upon undeniable principles of law and equity.

R. H. MACY & CO. DEFEATED.

JUSTICE LEVENTRITT, of the Supreme Court, Part 1, on January 6 handed down the following decision in the case of Straus [R. H. Macy & Co.] vs. the American Publishers' Association:

"My own views of the legality of the defendant's acts as they find support in the very persuasive opinion of the Supreme Court of Georgia in Brown vs. Jacobs Pharmacy Co., (41 S. E. Rep., 553-564.) must yield to the controlling law of this department as expressed in J. D. Park & Sons Co. vs. The National Wholesale Druggist Association, (54 App. Div. 223.) There is no substantial distinction in principle between that case and this, and the motion must therefore be denied."

ECHOES OF GROSS'S SUIT AGAINST ROSTAND.

HONOR is expensive, but S. E. Gross was willing to spend money to prove that he, and not Edmond Rostand, wrote "Cyrano de Bergerac." He says he devoted $40,000 to that purpose, and was successful, but now he has been sued by the Mooney & Boland Detective Agency, of Chicago, who ask $5000 as additional compensation for securing evidence of the plagiarism.

Mr. Gross asserts that he has already paid the detective agency $10,000. He says he never has received a full accounting. W. J. Sutherland, manager of the agency, with half a dozen detectives, spent eight months in France and England gathering evidence, without which, Mr. Sutherland claims, Mr. Gross's suit could not have succeeded.

THE STATIONERS' BOARD OF TRADE ANNUAL MEETING.

THE annual meeting of the Stationers' Board of Trade was held January 6, at the rooms of the Board, 92 Nassau Street, New York, President Henry C. Bainbridge in the chair. The following were represented in person or by proxy: Aikin, Lambert & Co., Allyn & Bacon, American News Company, American Playing Card Co., Charles T. Bainbridge's Sons, The Baker & Taylor Co., Brentano's, A. L. Burt & Co., The Cooke & Cobb Co., Z. & W. M. Crane, Crosscup & Sterling, Theo. L. De Vinne & Co., Louis De Jonge & Co., G. W. Dillingham Co., Jos. Dixon Crucible Co., Dodd, Mead & Co., Esterbrook Steel Pen Co., A. W. Faber, Eberhard Faber, Philip Hake & Co., Wm. C. Horn, Bro. & Co., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., Keuffel & Esser Co., Kiggins & Tooker Co., J. B. Lippincott Co., The Macmillan Co., McLoughlin Bros., G. & C. Merriam Co., Thomas Nelson & Sons, Perkins, Goodwin & Co., THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, G. P. Putnam's Sons, The Spencerian Pen Co., Tower Manufacturing and Novelty Co., S. G. & M. Vernon, Samuel Ward Co., L. E. Waterman Co., Byron Weston Co., George C. Whitney Co. and E. & J. B. Young & Co.

After the usual routine business, the president, Mr. Bainbridge, addressed the meeting as follows:

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

Members of The Stationers' Board of Trade, I can well remember, when a boy, hearing my father say that he had just returned from a meeting of the trade, at which they had organized a Stationers' Board of Trade, and hearing him comment upon the plans which they expected to accomplish through it, and what a benefit it would be to the stationery trade. Little did I think then that I would preside at the twenty-eighth annual meeting and receive the honors which have been so freely bestowed upon me.

Have we accomplished all that the founders of this Board expected? and have we, their successors, made it all we might have done? are questions I and many others think we can answer in the affirmative. I think we have met some propositions which our predecessors never calculated on, and which might have done much toward arranging their original plans. Great changes have taken place in the past twenty years. Our trade has grown to enormous proportions compared with then; ways and means of doing business are changed as much as anything else, and the Board of Trade of 1872 would be inadequate for the needs and demands of to-day. As a matter of course, the expenses of doing the work have increased, and your dues have been increased correspondingly, but no more. From the treasurer's report you will see that you have been assessed only enough to pay the running expenses of the office, which are kept at a minimum, and that the balance carried over is only enough for safety.

The trustees are proud that the Reserve Fund is intact, and that the Board has no obligations to meet; but it is my opinion that, as our business increases and competition becomes more keen, the demands upon our resources will increase, the actual cost of running the Board will increase, and the assessment for dues must increase likewise. Your officers have had to keep up with the times. The best service rendered by the best commercial agencies was none too good for our members, and we have tried with some measure of success to keep in the front. We have just passed through a year of unusual prosperity. Our Bankruptcy Department has suffered for want of work, and our Board has missed the income usually derived from such cases; but what the Board has lost individual members have gained. The Collection Department has done the largest business in any year in the history of the Board, and the same can be said of the Information Department. Besides, we have facilities for furnishing better mercantile reports than heretofore as the quality of our reports show. This is testified to by the large proportion of our members using this department, some using this department for their reports to the exclusion of all other agencies; most of our members could do likewise with benefit to themselves.

The coming year looks promising, the various industries upon which depend our nation's greatness are full of business; harvests have been bountiful; our people have money and all have to use paper, a product which helps to run every industry under the sun.

Our membership at present is not as large as it should be and as our organization deserves. It should be the duty of each and every member of the Board to try and get the name of a new subscriber. Every member could do this with little or no trouble, and it would greatly increase the income of the Board and thereby its resources. We believe we are giving our members good service, better than they can get elsewhere for the money, and much better than they can get anywhere else for any less; with an increased membership, which would mean an increase of income, the efficiency of the Board can be increased. Your trustees devote much time to directing and advising the policy of the Board, and the members should lend some assistance.

The demand for a book of ratings still exists; but as I have stated in previous years the entire income of the Board from dues would not be enough to pay for compiling and publishing a good book, and any other would never serve the purpose of our organization.

The Dinner Committee has arranged to hold the annual dinner at Delmonico's on Wednesday evening, January 14, and it is to be hoped our members will turn out on that occasion in large numbers. All who attended our last dinner will certify that the effect of such affairs is beneficial to us in our social and business life, and you can find no better way of entertaining a friend or a customer than by inviting him to be your guest.

I want to thank the officers and employees of the Board for their uniform courtesy and assistance to me, and congratulate them upon the universal spirit of good fellowship, which has existed among us, and which has done so much to make the work agreeable during the past year.

The Secretary-Treasurer, Edwin H. Lovell, then submitted the following:

INFORMATION (REPORTS) RECEIVED.

	1901	1902
Reports from correspondents.....	4771	5023
Statements received.....	1936	2470

During the year 1902 we sent to members for information 4806 inquiries. In 1901 4927 inquiries were sent. Letters written number 721, as against 597 in 1901. Weekly circulars issued from this department during the year were 6845.

This department was used by 105 members in 1901, and during the year 1902 by 104.

Various members have obtained 668 reports in excess of the number limited to 200 per year without extra charge.

COLLECTION DEPARTMENT.

In the collection department there have been received for collection during the year 4558 claims aggregating $188,892.45.

Collections to the amount of $51,119.58 have been made through the office, and nearly $40,000 was paid direct to members as the result of notice from the office and attorneys.

1578 claims have been closed by collection through the office, by attorneys, or paid direct to members.

3083 claims were sent to attorneys during the year.

703 claims amounting to $39,335.97 were settled direct.

530 claims were settled through attorneys.

345 claims were settled through the office.

1029 claims returned uncollectable.

71 claims transferred to the Bankruptcy Department.

1880 claims are still open and in process of collection, 2678 claims having been disposed of.

There have been received 21,086 letters and 34,307 written.

BANKRUPTCY DEPARTMENT.

During the year 180 new cases were opened which include 563 claims, amounting to $57,010.42.

16 cases (32 claims), amounting to $2,649.38, were paid in full.

4 cases (4 claims), amounting to $287.60, were paid direct.

95 cases (374 claims), amounting to $62,697.49, were settled by compromise.

40 cases (114 claims) were returned as worthless.

7 cases (7 claims), amounting to $924.35, were withdrawn.

There has been paid to creditors through this department $23,835.09, not including the $287.60 paid direct.

The number of letters received was 3574 and 5723 were written, besides 3469 circulars were issued to creditors.

In addition to the correspondence in this department, 1344 general letters were received and 937 written.

The books have been regularly audited and bills have been passed and paid regularly each month. Besides the certified accountant for the Board made an annual audit of the books, and reported that he found same correct.

The year ended with a balance of $249.80 in the treasurer's hands and interest due from the savings banks on the redemption fund amounting to $400.

The following trustees were elected to serve during the year 1903: James C. Aikin, of Aikin, Lambert & Co.; Charles Watson Allen, of Little, Brown & Co.; Thomas R. Bacon, of J. B. Lippincott Co.; Henry C. Bainbridge, of Chas. T. Bainbridge's Sons; Wm. B. Boorum, jr., of Boorum & Pease Co.; Robert Dickson, of D. Appleton & Co.; Patrick Farrelly, of The American News Company; William Keuffel, of Keuffel & Esser Co.; Charles S. Dixon Crucible Co.; Frank D. Waterman, of L. E. Waterman Co.; and Franklin Weston, of Byron Weston Co.

A meeting of the trustees will take place on January 13 to elect the officers of the Board.

"MESSAGES OF THE PRESIDENTS."

REPRESENTATIVE HENRY C. SMITH on the 8th inst. introduced in the House a resolution for the appointment of a committee to investigate the matter of the printing and distribution of the "Messages and Papers of the Presidents," which were compiled and edited by Representative Richardson, of Tennessee.

The preamble of the resolution says that the "Messages and Papers" are being printed and distributed by one or more printing concerns in such a manner as to lead the public to believe that they are official. It also asserts that the Bureau of National Literature and Art, (chartered,) Washington, D. C., purports to send out and distribute certificates to various persons which entitles them to an option on one copy of the supplemental volume of "Messages and Papers of the Presidents."

CHANGES IN THE TRADE IN NEW YORK.

A NUMBER of changes have taken place since the beginning of the year in the personnel of New York publishing houses, especially among the commercial travellers. E. J. Clode, for eight years representative and manager of the publishing department of Brentano's, has retired. For the present Mr. Clode will make no other connections, though it is not likely that he will remain at leisure very long. Indeed, in the near future his name may be connected with a new publishing venture. He is making his headquarters at 156 Fifth Avenue.

J. L. Thompson, for a number of years connected with Doubleday & McClure Co., and from the start a member of the firm of Doubleday, Page & Co., has retired from the firm and made connections with Charles Scribner's Sons, concerning which announcement will be made later.

Edward Hall, who has represented Doubleday, Page & Co. on the road, has severed his connection with that firm.

Herbert Houston, for some time connected with the advertising department of Outing, has been admitted to the firm of Doubleday, Page & Co.

Milton C. Dent, travelling representative for Dodd, Mead & Co., is about to resign and take a similar position with Raphael Tuck & Co. Mr. Dent will be succeeded at Dodd, Mead & Co.'s by Arthur Chase, who hitherto has been connected with the manufacturing department of the house.

William J. Kelly has renewed his contract with the W. B. Conkey Company to represent that firm in the East, with headquarters in the Presbyterian Building, New York. He started on the 6th inst. for his annual western trip, taking in the Pacific Coast and the Northwest, returning by way of Toronto or some other eastern Canadian point. He will probably return to New York in April.

A RECOGNITION OF MERIT.

It is announced that Mr. John H. Dingman is to retire from many of his usual activities in the house of Charles Scribner's Sons, and that such efforts as he will continue to make will be made in new lines of work helpful to the enlarged aims and purposes of the great establishment with which he will still be connected, and for which he has given the greater part of his life. Mr. Dingman's connection with the Scribner house, as is well known, began with its earliest history, and its experiences have been his, in all their varying phases, for more than forty years. Still in the vigor of physical health, Mr. Dingman is to be congratulated on the growth and achievements of his past, and such honorary occupation as now comes to him in the same house.

BOOKTRADE ASSOCIATIONS.

THE PITTSBURG BOOKSELLERS' AND STATIONERS' ASSOCIATION.

THE PITTSBURG BOOKSELLERS' AND STATIONERS' ASSOCIATION will hold its annual meeting at the Monongahela Hotel, January 20.

THE BOOKSELLERS' LEAGUE.

THE BOOKSELLERS' LEAGUE will give its first monthly dinner of the year at the Aldine Association rooms on the evening of January 14. The following guests are expected to address the League: Henry Harland, ("Sydney Luska,") author of "The Lady Paramount," etc.; Charles George D. Roberts, author of "Kindred of the Wild," etc.; Willis H. Drummond, author of "The Habitant," "Johnnie Courteau," etc.; and Homer Davenport, the cartoonist. A very enjoyable evening is in prospect. It is requested that those who intend to be present will notify Mr. Richardson at E. P. Dutton & Co.'s, 31 West Twenty-third Street, New York, by the 12th inst., otherwise no provision can be made for them at the table. The annual dinner will be given at the rooms of the Aldine Association on the evening of February 11. An elaborate programme is being prepared for that occasion.

OBITUARY NOTES.

MARSHALL T. BIGELOW, widely known as a printer, publisher and proofreader, and one of the early owners of the University Press, died suddenly on January 2, at Cambridge, Mass., at the age of eighty years. He was the author of several standard works on the subject of proofreading, which have passed through many editions.

RICHARD MANSILL, a well-known astronomer, died at Rock Island, Ill., January 6. He was born in Staffordshire, Eng., in 1829, but had resided in Rock Island since 1849. His annual "Almanac of Planetary Meteorology" was first published in 1876, and appeared regularly until 1901. It circulated over this country and in England, and was accepted as standard everywhere.

F. F. BAINBRIDGE, bookseller, died in Asheville, N. C., December 31. Mr. Bainbridge was born in Clevedon, Somersetshire, Eng., and was educated as a physician, but entered the army and served in the India campaigns. He came to this country, settling first in Virginia, where he married Miss Price, and then went to San Antonio, Tex., where he lived a number of years. In 1896 he settled in Asheville and opened a bookstore on South Main Street, removing afterwards to Patton Avenue.

GEORGE HARRISON MARSTON, formerly a well-known bookseller at Lowell, Mass., died on December 28 at his home in that city after an illness of two weeks. Mr. Marston was born in Sandwich, N. H., in 1841, and was educated at the academy in Newbury, Vt. At the age of eighteen he removed to Lawrence, where he established a partnership with George C. Prince as dealer in books, periodicals, etc. In 1872 the firm removed to Lowell, where their store became one of the well-known places of business on Merrimack Street. From this partnership Mr. Marston, owing to poor health, retired several years ago.

THE REV. PHINEAS CAMP HEADLEY died at Lexington, Mass., January 4, aged eighty-two. Mr. Headley was born at Walton, N. Y., June 29, 1819. He first studied and practised law, but subsequently studied theology and was graduated from the Auburn (N. Y.) Theological Seminary. He wrote extensively on historical subjects, his works comprising "Empress Josephine," "Mary, Queen of Scots," "Lafayette," "Napoleon," and "Louis Kossuth." He also wrote "Women of the Bible," "Secret Service of the United States in the Civil War," "Massachusetts in the Rebellion," "Public Men of To-day," "Half Hours in Bible Lands," and lives of Grant, Farragut, General O. M. Mitchell, Sherman, Ericsson, and Sheridan. Two daughters and two sons survive him, one of the latter being Chaplain J. H. B. Headley, U. S. A., stationed at Fort Hancock, Sandy Hook.

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

L. C. PAGE & Co. have become the proprietors of The Literary World of Boston.

The Novellen-Schatz, published by S. Zickel, New York, begins its forty-fourth volume with the January issue.

THE AINSLEE MAGAZINE COMPANY to increase the sales of Ainslee's Magazine offers prizes of $3000, to be awarded during February, March and April, to the dealers who succeed in disposing of a certain number of copies of the magazine according to the schedule advertised elsewhere in this issue.

MCCLURE, PHILLIPS & Co. have just brought out the first number of the Journal of Comparative Literature, under the editorial management of George E. Woodberry, Professor of Comparative Literature in Columbia University; J. B. Fletcher, Assistant Professor of Comparative Literature in Harvard University; and J. E. Spingarn, Tutor in Comparative Literature in Columbia University. The Journal, as already noted, will be issued quarterly, and will be devoted to the interests of the comparative method in literary study and investigation at home and abroad, and the most eminent scholars in this field will collaborate with the editors to make it thoroughly representative.

BUSINESS NOTES.

BELLOWS FALLS, VT.—Walter H. Black has bought the book and stationery business of Williams & Co.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y.—C. W. Sears, bookseller, has sold out.

CHICAGO, ILL.—A number of song writers have formed the Joseph E. Howard Publishing Company, and will hereafter publish their own musical compositions. The new company has a capital stock of $10,000, and will begin business January 20. It is composed of such well-known song writers as Bert Williams and George Walker, of Williams and Walker; Joseph E. Howard, of Howard and Emerson; Charles Steinberg, of New York; Charles Horwitz, of Horwitz and Bowers, and Andrew Sterling. The company will establish headquarters in the Grand Opera House Block.

DES MOINES, IA.—The City Book and Stationery Company has been incorporated by William Archer and C. A. Neidig, with a capital of $15,000.

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

It is announced in London that Lord Rosebery is writing a book on the American War of Independence.

EDEN PHILLPOTTS is finishing a novel entitled "The American Prisoner" which treats of the prisoners of war at Princetown and Dartmouth.

NOTES AND QUERIES.

Who publishes King's "International Arbitration and Reciprocity"? C. S.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

THE autobiography of Carl Schurz is nearing completion, and will be published next season.

A. B. PAINE is to write a biography of the late Thomas Nast. It was authorized by Mr. Nast himself.

THE INDUSTRIAL PUBLICATION COMPANY, 16 Thomas Street, New York, will publish next week an edition of Shakespeare's works in one octavo volume of upwards of 1000 pages.

LOUIS HARMAN PEET, 755 Ocean Avenue, Flatbush, Brooklyn, N. Y., has in press his work on the "Trees and Shrubs of Prospect Park," in Brooklyn. The book will be brought out shortly at the subscription price of $1.

RAND, McNALLY & Co. have just published a volume of sketches of Irish life and character, entitled "Father Tom of Connemara," by Elizabeth O'Reilly Neville. The book is illustrated with photographs of scenes and characters in Connemara.

A COPY of the New England Primer was recently sold by Morris D. High, of Johnstown, Pa., to Dodd, Mead & Co., for $2500. Mr. Morris bought the copy in 1893 at a public auction in a farmhouse near Oley, Berks County, for twelve cents.

THE NEW AMSTERDAM BOOK COMPANY, New York, have just issued in their Commonwealth Library a reprint of Cadwallader Colden's "History of the Five Indian Nations of Canada," in two volumes, with an introduction by Robert Waite.

ISAAC PITMAN & SONS will publish on the 12th inst. the eighth edition of "Isaac Pitman's Shorthand Dictionary." This edition will contain about 65,000 words in engraved shorthand, together with a parallel key in ordinary type. There will be no advance in price.

DWIGHT TILTON, the author of "Miss Petticoats," whose identity has so long been mysteriously discussed, is the pseudonym of George Tilton Richardson and Wilder Dwight Quint, both connected with the editorial staff of the Boston Traveller. Their new book, "On Satan's Mount," will be issued this month.

A GERMAN translation is to be made of Hamlin Garland's successful novel, "The Captain of the Gray-Horse Troop," for publication in Germany. That nation will doubtless be interested in learning about the American attitude towards the Indians, which is so keenly and sympathetically shown in this Western love story.

THE LOTHROP PUBLISHING COMPANY will bring out in February Richard Burton's new volume of verse, entitled "Message and Melody." This book of poems is the fourth which Mr. Burton has issued, and contains his latest and most mature work in lyric and ballad vein, gathered from many magazines, or written especially for this volume.

WILLIAM HEINEMANN, London, will soon publish a book by Lord William Nevill, entitled "Penal Servitude," in which the aristocratic convict describes his trial and prison life. It is claimed for this somewhat "sensational" work that it treats of many problems of the present prison system. Lord William served five years, mainly in Parkhurst Prison.

THE MCGRAW PUBLISHING CO., 114 Liberty Street, New York, have just ready a work on "The Art of Illumination," by Dr. Louis Bell. The author treats of the utilization of artificial light, and does not deal with the problem of distributing illuminants, but with their application, treating of illuminants only in so far as a knowledge of their peculiarities is necessary to their intelligent use.

HENRY HOLT & Co. announce that Kerner and Oliver's "Natural History of Plants" will no longer be published in four parts, but that in future it will be issued in a lower-priced edition in two volumes. The new edition will lack only the colored illustrations of the former more expensive one, which were inserted mainly for embellishment, but retains all the other illustrations, which were an essential part of the work.

THE MACMILLAN COMPANY have just ready the 1903 edition of "Who's Who," the price of which has been reduced from $1.75 to $1.50 net. The work has been greatly improved, and this year is one-third larger than it has ever been before. They have in preparation a work entitled "The Social Unrest," by John Graham Brook, which analyzes the unrest traceable chiefly to economic changes as they bear upon political and social ideals.

FLEMING H. REVELL COMPANY announce this week a novel of the Scottish Hebrides by Norman Maclean, entitled "Dwellers in the Mist." From the Scotland of Ian MacLaren, Barrie and others, Mr. Maclean shifts the scene to the Hebrides or Western Islands. These stories of those coastwise "dwellers in the mist" are mostly threaded together by a motif, and some recurrence of the characters. The simplicity of this austere life, scant in material things, but rich in heart's blood, is vividly pictured.

McCLURE, PHILLIPS & Co. will publish shortly an anthology of verse for small children prepared by Kate Douglas Wiggin and Nora Archibald Smith, which is to be called "The Posy Ring." They have in press a collection of the prayers of Dr. Johnson, with an introduction by William Aspenwall Bradley, and decorations and initials by William Jordan. For frontispiece Sir Joshua Reynolds's portrait has been reproduced. Three limited editions will be issued, printed on machine and hand-made paper and Japan vellum.

LITTLE, BROWN & Co. have in preparation a special issue of their National edition of the complete works of Daniel Webster, in eighteen volumes, to be brought out this year. This special issue will be limited to fifty sets, at $50 a volume, printed on hand-made paper, deckle edges, splendidly bound in full crushed levant morocco, gilt top, and further enriched with thirty-six hand-colored fronttispieces and title-page vignettes. A portfolio containing a special set of India proofs of the portraits and views will be presented to each of the subscribers to this edition.

HARPER & BROTHERS are bringing out a new edition of the late John Fiske's "American Political Ideas," a volume rich in suggestive thought, bearing upon the significance of American development and its "manifest destiny." They are also making a new revised edition of Davis's "The Elements of International Law," which is used as a text-book at West Point and many colleges, military and otherwise. Its author, General George B. Davis, has been for many years a profound student of international law, and is now Judge-Advocate General of the army, with the rank of brigadier-general.

J. F. MEEHAN contributes to The Beacon, of Bath, Eng., for December, 1902, an article on "Major André and Bath" in his series of "Famous Buildings of Bath and District." Mr. Meehan doubts whether André was ever in Bath, notwithstanding the fact that over the door of No. 22 Circus appears an inscription on a mural tablet to the effect that "Here dwelt Major André, A.D. 1770." The major's mother, however, and his maiden sisters lived in Bath from the close of the eighteenth century to 1845, and this is a peg on which Mr. Meehan hangs a story of André and his family. The sketch is illustrated with a portrait of André after a miniature by himself.

The New York Herald is authority for the statement that a New York bibliomaniac has ordered a set of Frederick J. Quinby's edition of the works of Paul de Kock in 100 volumes, expressly printed and bound for himself at $200,000. The first two volumes of the $200,000 set are now under way. Every one of the 3200 pages in the set will be illuminated and every page done in different designs, while with the other editions only the chapters and head and tail pieces are illuminated. Everything is being done by hand. The letterpress is printed on an old-fashioned hand press and the binding is being done by hand, and about thirty artists and decorators are engaged taking the volumes page for page, so that no two of them will be alike.

AUCTION SALES.

JANUARY 12-14, 3 P.M.—Miscellaneous. (993 lots.)—Bangs.

JANUARY 15, 3 P.M.—Scottish books. (311 lots.)—Bangs.

STAN V. HENKELS will sell for Davis & Harvey, of Philadelphia, the fine collection of Harold Pierce, of Philadelphia. The sale will be divided into four sections, the first taking place the latter part of February and the remaining sections at intervals of a month. The first part will be made up of Americana; the remainder comprises an extraordinary collection of first editions of English authors. In every department there are many books issued by private presses and clubs not often offered for sale. The catalogues will be ready shortly.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Under the heading "Books Wanted" book-trade subscribers are given the privilege of a free advertisement for books out of print, of five nonpareil lines exclusive of address, in any issue except special numbers, to an extent not exceeding 100 lines a year. If more than five lines are sent, the excess is at 10 cents a line, and amount should be inclosed. Bids for current books and such as may be easily had from the publishers, and repeated matter, as well as all advertisements from non-subscribers, must be paid for at the rate of 10 cents a line.

Under the heading "Books for Sale," the charge to subscribers and non-subscribers is 10 cents a nonpareil line for each insertion. No deduction for repeated matter.

All other small, undisplaced, advertisements will be charged at the uniform rate of 10 cents a nonpareil line. Eight words may be reckoned to the line.

Parties with whom we have no accounts must pay in advance, otherwise no notice will be taken of their communications.

BOOKS WANTED.

In answering, please state edition, condition, and price, including postage or express charges.

Houses that are willing to deal exclusively on a cash-on-delivery basis will find it to their advantage to put after their firm-name the word [Cash].

Write your wants plainly and on one side of the sheet only. Illegibly-written "wants" will be considered as not having been received. The "Publishers' Weekly" does not hold itself responsible for errors.

It should be understood that the appearance of advertisements in this column, or elsewhere in the "Publishers' Weekly" does not furnish a guarantee of credit. While it is endeavored to safeguard these columns by withdrawing the privilege of their use from advertisers who are not "good pay," booksellers should take the usual precaution, as to advertisers not known to them, that they would take in making sales to any unknown parties.

Now Ready TWO REMARKABLE BOOKS

A Son of Destiny

The Story of Andrew Jackson

By MISS MARY C. FRANCIS

In view of the extraordinary interest that is now being taken in the career of Andrew Jackson, the forming of numerous Jackson clubs throughout the country and the intense and revived interest in the career of this remarkable man, the publication of Miss Francis's story is very opportune.

The BROOKLYN DAILY EAGLE, in a column review of this remarkable book says: "Is a fascinating and impressive novel. Even with its faults the fact that it's a biography of so historical a figure as Andrew Jackson should insure for it a wide popularity."

The ST. LOUIS GLOBE DEMOCRAT says: "It will be read by the student and novel reader, and enjoyed because it is full of incident and movement."

The NASHVILLE AMERICAN says: "A Son of Destiny" is a splendid book and one that captures interest from the first, never to lose its hold. As a bit of history it will appeal to all; as a romance to everyone who admires a splendid story, splendidly told.

We expect a large sale on this book. Large 12mo, handsomely bound in cloth.
Price, $1.50

The New Christians

By PERCY WHITE, Author of "Mr. Bailey Martin"

Second Edition. Large 12mo, handsomely bound in cloth. Price, $1.25

This is a new novel on a subject of increasing interest to the public—namely, Christian Science. The critics throughout the English speaking world are unanimous in its praise.

The NEW YORK MAIL AND EXPRESS, in a column review, says: "Mr. White's story deserves attention. It is timely, and it is bright; its lesson is, moreover, conveyed in a story that is extremely readable. Its meaning does not mar the pleasure of the reader, but it will be remembered long after the book has been laid down."

TO BE PUBLISHED SHORTLY

Cutcliffe Hyne's New Book

CAPTAIN KETTLE, K.C.B.

Being further Adventures of Captain Kettle

Large 12mo, handsomely bound in cloth. Price, $1.25

No character in recent fiction is so interesting and unique and so well known as Captain Kettle. He has hosts of friends who will welcome a new book by his capable biographer. Cutcliffe Hyne's previous book reached a sale in the British Isles and the United States of over 100,000 copies. We believe "Captain Kettle, K.C.B." will sell equally as well.

The Annual American Catalogue

CUMULATED

1900-1902

THE ANNUAL AMERICAN CATALOGUE, Cumulated, 1900-1902, is now in preparation, and will include in one alphabet the short-title lists of the books of 1900, 1901 and 1902, giving the information of the books recorded by author, title, subject and series. This cumulation is to continue annually until a five-yearly volume of "The American Catalogue" in its new shape is reached. This form of catalogue has been generally accepted as a desirable, practical working tool for the trade, supplementing as it will do, from year to year, the last issue of the five-yearly "American Catalogue," without the need of consulting several alphabets in several volumes.

AINSLEE'S in its enlarged form is selling better than ever. We want to still further increase its sale and intend to divide the profits among the trade.

The dealers who make the best display of AINSLEE'S—who keep it before the eyes of the public—will share proportionately our prosperity.

If you have not received particulars already, they can be had upon application.

THE AINSLEE MAGAZINE COMPANY,

156 Fifth Ave., New York City

Briggs Brothers, of Plymouth, Massachusetts, announce the publication of Twentieth Century Cover Designs, a quarto of about 300 pages, the net retail price of which is $5.00

The Boston Transcript, the leading literary newspaper of New England, at the beginning of an extended review, says: The season has been especially rich in well-made books, and now to cap the climax comes a volume telling how well-made books are made. Although the title it bears is Twentieth Century Cover Designs, it does not confine itself to that one phase of the book-making art, but enters at length into discussions and examples of many aspects of printing, designing and binding. Although the text is furnished by experts in their various lines, the most attractive feature of the volume will prove to be the plates, which reproduce cover designs and fine bindings to the number of one hundred and more. The subjects discussed by the several contributors are as follows: The Use of Colors on Covers, The Cover in Advertising, Book Covers and Cover Designing, Pyrography as a Fine Art, Concerning Cover Papers, The Cover Page, Book-lovers' Bindings, The Art of Cover Designing, and Viennese Inlaying. All these are written upon by experts who are practising what they preach in the making of artistic books.

"The vigor of youth glows in his verse."

"Speaks out his message large and clear."

"There is not a poem that one would have wished left out."

"The book is destined to make a place for itself by sheer strength."

Whitaker's Reference Catalogue.

We are now prepared to supply the "Reference Catalogue of Current English Literature," better known, perhaps, as "Whitaker's Reference List."

The work is arranged on the plan of "The Publishers' Trade List Annual," and contains recent lists of 179 of the more important English publishers. An index is prefixed to the lists containing 135,000 references to the books catalogued. It thus forms one of the most complete records of current English books accessible to the bookseller and librarian.

The work is in two volumes of about 5,000 pages, strongly bound in half leather. The price has been fixed at $5.00 net.

As the copies received for the American market are limited, we need hardly remind intending subscribers of the wisdom of placing your order without delay.

Journal of Comparative Literature

A quarterly devoted to the interests of the comparative method in literary scholarship in this country and Europe.

Edited by

GEORGE E. WOODBERRY

Professor of Comparative Literature in Columbia University

J. B. FLETCHER

Assistant Professor of Comparative Literature in Harvard University

J. E. SPINGARN

Tutor in Comparative Literature in Columbia University

The contributors of the Journal include the most distinguished scholars and men of letters in America and Europe. The circulation will be highly cosmopolitan and among the most cultivated classes everywhere, especially among those who read foreign languages, since the articles will be printed in the tongues in which they were originally written. Besides leading articles in every number there will be long and well-considered reviews of all important books in criticism, belles-lettres, and scholarly research.

Literary contributions, books for review, and all editorial communications may be addressed to the JOURNAL OF COMPARATIVE LITERATURE, Columbia University, New York.

Single copies, 75 cents; annual subscription, $3.00

Subscriptions and all business communications may be addressed to
